Court Hearings and Judicial Monitoring

- Hearings are a time to recognize and respond to behavioral change
- Specialized dockets
 - Less formal, smaller, more private
 - More frequent
 - Greater interaction between judge and participants

Court Hearings and Judicial Monitoring

- Predictable and consistent schedule
- Flexibility from Court
- Separate Mental Health Court Docket
 - Different times
 - Different days

Different Tracks

- Specialized Tracks for Co-Occurring
- Consider severity of each diagnosis:

High/Low Substance Use Disorder
and Mental Illness

DARE TO BE DIFFERENT

Treatment Components

- Medication-based approaches
- Counseling/Psychotherapy (CBT)
- Self-help and Support Groups
- Family involvement
- Individualized treatment plans
- Intensive case management
- Frequent, random drug screens

Treatment for COD

- Attend to the interactive nature of the disorders via ongoing assessment, individualized treatment planning and service provision.

Treatment for COD

- The focus should be on the extent of functional impairment caused by the two disorders and their interaction, with treatment sequence determined by the extent and severity of specific impairments.

Treatment for COD

- Integrated Treatment (as recommended by SAMHSA) addresses mental and substance use disorders simultaneously, each within the context of the other disorder. Similar to the drug court team approach, integrated treatment requires interdisciplinary collaboration.

Treatment for COD

- Treatment planning is collaborative and client-centered, in that it addresses clients' goals using treatment strategies and methods that are acceptable to them.

Case Management

- Intensive
- Smaller caseloads
- Identify existing services
- Reduce conflicts between providers
- Assist the client (consumer)
- Consistent messaging about recovery
- Money management

Preparing Clients For Meds

- Encourage clients to:
- Express concerns
- Ask questions
- Take notes
- Take as prescribed
- Open to medication prescribed

Educate Participants

- Symptoms
- Diagnosis
- Medications
- Side effects
- Unintended consequences – diet, sleep, exercise, relationships

Working with the Family

- Counseling
- Community Support
- Engage
- Non-traditional
- Educate about mental illness and substance use disorder

Family

- Frequently last to leave, first to return
- May be valuable source of medical, psychiatric, education, employment and relationship history and records
- Unfortunately, not always supportive or a positive influence

Court Adaptation 4: Supervision

NDCI
NATIONAL DRUG
COURT INSTITUTE

NDCI: A Professional Services Division of NADCP

Community Supervision

- Smaller and specialized caseloads
- Problem-solving approach
- Rapid crisis response capability
- Monitor medication compliance
- Home visits
- “Fugitive” warrants receive priority
- Taper supervision over time

Community Supervision

- Drug and alcohol testing
- Supported employment
- Educational activities
- Pro-social activities
- Community linkages
- Role playing

Court Adaptation 5: Phase Requirements

Learning Flexibility

Adjust Expectations

EXPECTATIONS

vs.

REALITY

- Lifelong engagement in treatment is necessary and desirable.
- Highly structured program
- Abstinence not always linked to graduation time frame, more like “behave appropriately”

Phase Adjustments

Proximal Goals

Distal Goals

Court Adaptation 6: Responding to Behavior

- Participants are still held accountable for their behavior.
- Responses should be realistic for each participant's abilities
- Consider Proximal and Distal goals

Flexible Incentives and Sanctions

- No zero tolerance
- Wide range of rewards/incentives
- Considerations:
 - Housing
 - Medications
 - Treatment participation

Considerations in Responding to Participant Behaviors

- WHERE are they in the program (i.e., what phase)?
- WHICH behaviors are we responding to (i.e. are they proximal or distal for both disorders)?
- WHAT is the response choice and magnitude?
- HOW do we deliver and explain the response?

Remember:

- Have a defined framework
- Be flexible
- Be trained
- Plan ahead
- Be creative
